W. & N. RAILROAD TO EXTEND LINE TO NEENAH SOON

CONSTRUCTION OF LINE FROM PRESENT TERMINUS TO TWIN CITIES IS TO START SOON

CONNECT WITH SOO LINE

Appleton Will Have Four Railroad
Lines at Its Disposal When Construction Work Is Completed—Will Cost
$400,000

Appleton shippers are to have direct connection with another of the main transportation systems of the country according to plans announced by C. H. Hartley, general manager of the Wisconsin and Northern railroad. It will be one of the biggest projects put over in years for the benefit of Appleton industries.

Application has been made to the railroad commission at Madison for a certificate of convenience and necessity by which the right is given the company to construct a line on the west side of the Fox river from Appleton to Neenah. This will extend the freight and passenger service of the Wisconsin and Northern railroad to Neenah, where it will connect with the Soo line, use the Soo passenger and freight stations and have a new outlet to Milwaukee and Chicago.

Tight of way is being purchased and surveys that were made several years ago for a proposed line southward are being checked up by the company's engineers, slight changes being made in the interest of the new venture.

Just when construction will start, Mr. Hartley was unable to say, but it will be sometime this summer, depending on when the preliminary arrangements and purchase of land will be completed. A final understanding has been reached with Soo line officials by which its Neenah facilities will be used by the local company.

There has always been more or less lament among Appleton shippers because they could not have the convenient use of Soo line service to Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul, Minneapolis and other terminal points. Now they will be able to route shipments over the Wisconsin and Northern road to all these places with as much convenience as the Soo line had its tracks here. Neenah has always boasted better shipping facilities because of having both the Chicago and Northwestern and Soo line service, but Appleton will now be placed in the same admirable position so far as transportation is concerned.

Connection with the Soo line at Wisconsin and Northern junction, six miles north of Crandon, has always been maintained for the benefit of shippers supplying the north, but the proposed union at Neenah will also give an important southern outlet. Passengers will be carried through to Neenah instead of Appleton, if desired, and there will possibly be a station at Appleton junction, where connection may be made with Ashland division trains of the Chicago and Northwestern.

Building of the Wisconsin and Northern railway into Appleton was considered one of the biggest boosts ever given Appleton, because a rich northern territory was laid open to the business houses here. Liberal support, financially and otherwise, has been given by the Appleton people, according to Mr. Hartley, and the idea of building to Neenah is even more appreciated. It virtually means four railroad at the disposal of Appleton shippers instead of three.

The new right of way will cover six miles and will be built at an approximate cost of $400,000. Mr. Hartley was asked if there was any possibility of running the Wisconsin and Northern trains over the Soo tracks to Oshkosh and Fond du Lac, but he states that no such plans have been entertained. The task of building to Neenah is sufficient to occupy the minds of the officials for some time to come and any further extensions of service will come only after this venture is carried through.

START NEW EFFORT TO REVIVE SOLDIER BONUS

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington—Efforts to revive the soldier bonus bill were made today with the return of Representative Fordney, Michigan, chairman of the house ways-and-means committee.

Soldier bonus advocates tentatively have decided that the total expenditure under any soldier relief program must be reduced to $1,000,000,000 instead of $1,500,000,000 as previously planned.

The committee expects to meet today to consider revisions of the measure but it is probable no agreement will be reached until the latter part of the week. House leaders say it is certain that the proposed tax on retail sales will be eliminated.

Wilson Will Keep Out Of Turk Wrangle

President is Determined Not to Meddle in European Affairs Until Versailles Treaty is Disposed of by the Senate

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington—President Wilson has decided to stand aloof from the allied settlement with Turkey, according to information obtained today from sources usually well informed.

This, it was intimated, is in line with Wilson's determination to refrain from further participation in international politics until the Versailles treaty has finally been disposed of.

The allies' reply to Wilson's note on the Turkish question outlining why they can not abide by his plan which included ejection of the sultan from Constantinople, will probably only be formally acknowledged by the state department, it was learned.

Officials do not believe Wilson will have occasion again to fight for his principles in the Adriatic, it being thought that a settlement of this question satisfactory to both countries will be reported by direct negotiation between Italy and Jugo-Slavia.

The Russian question, the next important international problem awaiting solution probably will be settled independently by the United States and various allied governments.

URGES $2,500 AS A MINIMUM RAIL SCALE

RAILROAD MEN'S REPRESENTATIVE WANTS CONTROVERSY SETTLED FOR LONG TIME

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington—A minimum wage of $2,500 a year was proposed to the railroad labor board today by W. Jett Lauck, former secretary of National labor board, appearing on behalf of 2,900,000 rail workers demanding wage increases of approximately $1,000,000,000 a year.

Establishment of a minimum wage of $2,500 a year for railroad workers would stabilize wages in all industries and better the condition of all American workers, Lauck told the board.

"The public," he said, "is weary of half-way temporizing policies of wage adjustment. The public wishes the railroad wage controversy settled on a long time, far-seeing basis."

Lauck yesterday told the board increasing living costs are due almost solely to profiteering by big corporations dealing in food, clothing fuel and the basic raw materials like steel.

ANOTHER SOVIET ARK IS TO START SOON

FIVE HUNDRED ALIENS ARE AWAITING DEPORTATION,
CAMINETTE SAYS

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington—Another "soviet ark" loaded with radical aliens will be started on its way to Russia shortly, according to information given by the house appropriations committee by Anthony Caminetti, director general of immigration.

About 500 aliens are now awaiting deportation and most of them are Russians. Plans are rapidly being completed. It was learned for sending a large shipload to Odessa or some other point on the Black sea.

"Difficulties have been encountered in obtaining transportation facilities, but it is probable an army transport will be used," Caminetti said.

"I am now ready to deport in large numbers and it may be that the situation in Finland and Estonia will clear up so that the aliens can be sent across these countries. Deportation to other European countries also will be speeded up."

METHODISTS HEAR ALL ABOUT NEW KANSAS LAW

By United Press Leased Wire
Des Moines, Ia.—The Kansas plan of settling labor disputes was explained by Governor Henry A. Allen to the Methodist general conference here last night.

During the course of his address, Governor Allen declared that "if ever civilization cried out for a Christian remedy for industrial war, this present civilization utters that cry."

The league of nations has caused a split in the committee of state of the church on "world peace."

Two reports were submitted to the conference. The majority report favored a league "in which the United States shall have a proper and honorable place" without directly endorsing the Wilson league or indirectly criticizing it.

The minority report flatly supported the attitude of the treaty reservationists.

SURVEY OF SOCIAL CONDITIONS IN THE COUNTY UNDERWAY

INSTRUCTIONS HAVE BEEN GIVEN TO SEVERAL COMMITTEES AND THEY START WORK

EXPERTS ARE IN CHARGE

Representatives of the State and of the Red Cross Here to Tell How the Work Should be Carried on to Obtain Results

The social survey of Outagamie county planned by the Red Cross and other civic and social organizations is definitely under way. Delays from various causes forced its postponement several times but the committees on education and juvenile delinquency now have their instructions from experts and are able to start their investigations. Other committees will also have their instructions and be able to start work soon.

The survey promises to be one of the most unique methods ever devised for bettering conditions in Outagamie county. Every phase of social life and conditions will be looked into and reported upon by committees definitely instructed along their particular lines. Besides the education and juvenile delinquency committees, there are several others that will prepare surveys. They are the recreational health, housing, sanitation, family welfare and industrial committees. Each will be told how best to do its work and gain the largest results.

Miss Verna Blomgren, survey director of the Central Division of the American Red Cross is in personal charge.

The first to get under way was the education and culture committee consisting of Miss Carrie Morgan, chairman, Herman Saecker, the Rev. F. L. Schreckenbach, W. S. Ford, Dr. Samuel Plintz, The Rev. W. J. Fitzmaurice, Dr. D. O. Kinsman, the Rev. Paul Nesper, Dr. O. P. Fairfield, A. G. Mealing, B. F. Rohan, H. E. Polley, A. L. Wolfe and M. H. Small. They met Thursday afternoon for a conference with Mrs. George White, director of the State Department of Education, who thoroughly informed them of what was wanted and how to get it.

Get Education Facts
Social facts of education are to be sought by the educational committee. They will also deal with retarded, defective and subnormal children and with the facilities for properly handling them. Home problems will also be taken up and an effort made to establish better relations between the school and the home. The adequacy and condition of sanitation, ventilation, lighting and other phases of the school situation will be taken up, as well as the use of the leisure time of the students.

Vocational guidance, the need for it and the extent to which it is practiced will also occupy the attention of the committee. Medical and health care are also to be studied.

Study Delinquency
Juvenile delinquency features of the survey were taken up at a conference Friday morning between E. D. B. Lynde, secretary of the Wisconsin conference on social work, and the delinquency committee, which consists of Thomas Ryan, chairman, Paul V. Carey, J. P. Frank, Judge A. M. Spencer, Mrs. S. C. Shannon, Jacob Pfeil, Leigh Hooley, Miss Carrie Morgan, Dr. M. H. Small and Chief George T. Prim. Mr. Lynde took up in detail the work mapped out for this committee.

Causes of delinquency and the sources of it will be sought during the investigation. Places where accidents and which are considered infection spots will be noted. How far mental and physical subnormalities and improper home conditions are responsible for this condition will be reported by the committee, with suggestions as to how to overcome it. What recreational, moral and health conditions enter into or are conducive to delinquency are also to be taken into consideration as part of the investigation.

Start in Appleton
The present survey work is being done only in Appleton. Committees have been named in each village and township to carry out a similar investigation. Each of these will be instructed by Mrs. Blomgren and Mr. Lynde or the other leaders in the particular line which they are to investigate. When all is finished, there will be a comprehensive survey showing what the actual social conditions are throughout Outagamie county and how they can be remedied.

FEDERAL DRY OFFICER SENT TO WORKHOUSE

By United Press Leased Wire
Milwaukee—George Cowie, former federal prohibition agent, charged with taking bribes from Racine saloonkeepers for withholding prosecution of liquor violations, pleaded guilty in federal court last night.

He was sentenced to eight months in the house of correction and fined $25.

Cowie's defense was that he took the money paid him by Knowles and Jefferson as evidence.

REVOLT GROWING AND CARRANZA'S DEFEAT CERTAIN

WASHINGTON OFFICIALS NOW BELIEVE MEXICAN PRESIDENT WILL BE OVERTHROWN

DEPUTIES JOIN REVOLT

Chamber of Deputies Severs Allegiance With Federal Government—Bonillas Not Eligible for Mexican Presidency

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington—Carranza is beaten and his overthrow by Obregon rebels is only a matter of a short time, according to the belief today of government military advisors.

This conclusion of military experts was reflected by other officials who now admit Carranza's position is grave. Before these officials concluded Carranza would be able to control the revolt.

The Obregon revolt is not one to be gauged from a military standpoint, government intelligence officials say. They believe it is more in the nature of a "strike" against the present government by the people of Mexico who, they say, are tired of Carranza's unbridled promises.

Bonillas Ineligible
Ignacio Bonillas, Mexican ambassador to the United States, when Carranza was supporting for president, a former deputy sheriff of Arizona and former secretary of Governor Stafford, of that state, and therefore ineligible for the Mexican presidency, according to rebel agents here.

Carranza intended to have Bonillas elected and then have the Mexican congress "discover" that the ambassador was not eligible and designate him (Carranza) as president at once. It is alleged. Advisors today to the revolutionists reported the revolt of another Carranza general, Manuel Dieguez, who headed the expedition of troops that Carranza intended to send into Sonora.

Deputies Join Revolt
El Paso, Texas—The Chamber of deputies in the federal district (Mexico City) has declared for the revolution, according to a message at Juarez rebel headquarters today from Eugenio Martinez, commander in Chihuahua City.

Carranza and his ministers were reported to be trying to effect an armistice with the rebels who suspect the move is intended to gain time for the Carranzistas' escape from Mexico City.

More Generals Revolt
General Guadalupe Sanchez, federal commander in Vera Cruz state, was said in the message to have revolted. General Meneses has taken over the capital of Oaxaca for the revolution and General Castanea has revolted in the state of Tehuantepec, the advisers also stated.

Accession to the revolution of Antonio L. Villarreal, formerly Carranzista governor of Nuevo Leon and president of the Aguas Calientes convention which elected Carranza provisional president was claimed.

The third troop train left Juarez for the south last night, to be used to fight the rebels' way to Mexico City.

Yanks Aid Rebels
Emilio Salinas, brother-in-law of Carranza, arrived in El Paso last night, his release from Chihuahua City having been ordered by Governor De la Huerta of Sonora, temporary leader of the revolution.

Sixteen American and other foreign saloon proprietors of Juarez saloons, donated $200 each toward the revolution yesterday and will be permitted to re-open today.

WORKERS BUYING HOUSES AND GETTING MARRIED

High Cost of Living Has Not Proven Much of a Handicap for Dan Cupid's Operations in Chicago

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago—Skilled mechanics and other workers are buying more houses today than any other class of people, Chicago real estate men declared today.

They attributed this to the high wages being paid members of trades as compared with clerks and office men.

"We are selling more homes to working people than anyone else," L. J. Schiller, a real estate dealer in Ravenswood, a suburb asserted.

Other real estate men made the same assertion. All said the majority of home buyers were newly married couples.

This was born out by Louis C. Lizonier, Cook county marriage license clerk who said not working people were being married today.

"Men and women both workers, come in here on their noon hours, are married and return to work in the afternoon," he said.

"The high cost of living has not decreased marriages among the working class," he added.

KNOX AND HOOVER STAND BIG CHANCE OF LEADING G.O.P.

POLITICIANS BELIEVE DARK HORSES WILL EVENTUALLY CONTROL CHICAGO MEETING

KNOX STRENGTH GROWS

Suggestion of Pennsylvania as Compromise Candidate Apparently Is Meeting With Favor in All Parts of the Country

(By Harold D. Jacobs)
By United Press Leased Wire
New York—The republican presidential situation, already complicated has been rendered even more difficult of solution by the growth of favorable reaction to the candidacy of Senator Philander C. Knox.

There is a fairly general understanding that when Senator Boies Penrose endorsed his colleague for the republican nomination it was intended largely as a "feeler" to learn the sentiment of the rank and file of the party and of the candidates, regarding a possible "dark horse."

Knox is a recognized conservative and Penrose, as representative of the big guard, apparently wished to learn particularly how Senator Hiram Johnson and the progressive wing regarded Knox as a compromise candidate in the event of a deadlock at Chicago.

Even Penrose is understood to have been amazed at the quick response of sentiment for Knox in both branches of the party and this strength has grown daily, making the Pennsylvania senator loom up fearfully among the large stable of "dark horses."

Johnson has repeatedly given assurance that in the event of his defeat at Chicago, he will be no party to a bolt. The conservative leaders, in view of Johnson's obvious popular strength, find considerable comfort in the thought that it would be doubly easy for the California to accept Knox, a close personal friend.

The possibility has thus arisen that two men who may not get a handful of votes on the first ballot, will stand as good a chance for the nomination as any of the present "big four" of Johnson, Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood, Governor Frank O. Lowden and Senator Warren G. Harding. These two are Knox and Herbert Hoover.

For the former, too, the political situation is far from dead politically. If the word of several astute politicians may be accepted, they point out that at no time since Hoover refused to enter the general scramble for delegates to the primaries and state convention, has he been other than a "dark horse" candidate, and as such he has retained a reserve strength that has not been greatly affected even by such defeats as he received in the California primary at the hands of Johnson.

With all but six of the states having chosen their delegates, it becomes more apparent that no candidate can hope to win on the first ballot. Instructed delegates at present are apportioned as follows:

Wood, 136; Johnson, 106; Lowden, 73; Harding, 39; Senator Miles Poindexter, 14.

Counting claims to uninstructed delegates, the standing would be:

Wood, 243; Johnson, 150; Lowden, 145; Nicholas Murray Butler, 88; Harding, 40; Governor Calvin Coolidge, 29; Judge J. C. Pritchard, 22; Poindexter, 14.

Demarching delegates are still widely distributed. Instructions have been made as follows:

Governor James M. Cox, 74; Hoover, 33; Governor Edward L. Edwards, 28; Senator Robert Owen, 20; Senator Gilbert Hitchcock, 16; William J. Bryan, 10; James W. Gerard, 10.

Claims to uninstructed delegates would make the standing:

William G. McAdoo, 153; Edwards, 134; Cox, 100; Attorney General Palmer, 26; Champ Clark, 36; Hoover, 33; Secretary of Agriculture Meredith, 26; State Senator S. F. Simmons, of North Carolina, 24; Owen, 20; Bryan, 18; Hitchcock, 16; Homer S. Cummings, 14; Gerard, 10.

HOLD WOMAN AND NINE MEN FOR BANK ROBBERY

East St. Louis—A woman and nine men were held by the police today in connection with the attempted holdup of the Drivers' National Bank here yesterday, in which one bandit was killed and two believed wounded.

The robbers abandoned more than $18,000 in their flight.

The woman was said to be the wife of a "notorious bandit" now serving "time" in the penitentiary. Her arrest followed information received by the police that she knew the identity of the bank robbers and their hiding place.

Webster Mill Is Sold To 2 Appleton Men

William Nemacheck and E. P. Grignon Are New Owners of One of Oldest Manufacturing Establishments in the City

Announcement was made today of the purchase by William Nemacheck and E. P. Grignon of the Webster wood working plant, one of the oldest manufacturing establishments in the city, which was owned by Miss May Webster and the estate of Clark Webster and which for several months has been managed by Mr. Nemacheck.

The new owners have already taken possession and while the details of the sale have not yet been completed the transfer is to date from May 1. The price paid for the plant has not been made public.

It is the intention of Nemacheck and Grignon to continue the manufacture of paper mill supplies and to incorporate as manufacturers of wood products and also as wholesale and retail dealers in lumber. The plant eventually is to be enlarged and new machinery added.

The new owners are both experienced men in the lumber business, each having seen about thirty years' service. Prior to accepting the position of manager of the Webster plant, Mr. Nemacheck was manager of the George Miller Lumber company for several years, and Mr. Grignon has been for many years and still is a salesman for the George Miller Lumber company. He has been a resident of Appleton for nine years.

CAR SUPPLY MAY BE BREAD REGULATOR

GRAINMEN MEET WITH FEDERAL WHEAT DIRECTOR TO DISCUSS PROSPECTS OF FUTURE

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago—The freight car supply may be measuring the price of bread next summer it was believed today by grain trade experts of the middle west.

They met here with Julius H. Barnes, United States wheat director, for consultation over the grain situation. Their belief was caused by the difficulties of railroads which dropped wheat into a critical plight almost on the eve of the expiration of the wheat quarantine act, June 1.

The conference here took steps to establish free and open market for the handling of wheat and products after federal control passes. A plan for the re-opening exchanges to flourish trading in wheat will be worked out by a committee of sixteen men from the grain exchanges of Chicago, Milwaukee, Duluth, Minneapolis, Omaha, Kansas City, St. Louis and Toledo. A steering committee is composed of Fred B. Wells, Minneapolis; H. N. Sager, Chicago; F. J. Lingham, Lockport, New York, and P. E. Goodrich, Winchester, Ind.

Barnes consulted with representatives from the Chicago board of trade today.

John Conway, temporary chairman of last night's meeting, outlined the work that has been done thus far in the campaign and explained the difficulties under which the nurses at St. Elizabeth hospital are working in order to make clear the great need for more hospital facilities. Names of manufacturers and the amounts they have donated were read by Major A. J. McKay of the Combined Locks Paper company, who is chairman of the manufacturers' committee.

BENSON AVERS U. S. NAVY WAS LARGEST IN THE WORLD

America Had Greatest Naval Power World Has Ever Seen When Armistice Was Signed, Witness Says

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington—The American navy had the largest personnel in the world at the armistice, Admiral Benson chief of naval operations during the war, told the senate naval investigation committee today.

"No navy ever expanded so rapidly as ours after we declared war," Benson said.

"When the armistice was signed, we had 500,000 officers and men which was more than the British. It is recognized we had the largest navy power the world has ever seen."

Admiral Benson did not elaborate this statement.

The French naval attaché once complained that Benson was too partial toward the British, the witness said, the only criticism he recalled from the allies.

The August Brandt company has sent several men to Detroit for automobiles. It received over thirty-five this week which were brought to Appleton under their own power.

SISTERS IN CHARGE OF HOSPITAL AND VALLEY MANUFACTURERS DONATE LARGE SUMS

FRANK IS CHAIRMAN

Election is Made at Organization Meeting Last Evening—Gallagher Is Named Secretary—Want 48-Hour Campaign

With the election of Attorney Julius P. Frank as chairman of the city campaign committee and announcement that $319,000 has already been pledged, preparations for the campaign to raise $500,000 to build a new 200 bed St. Elizabeth hospital were nearly completed at a meeting of about 20 representative business men and manufacturers at the Sherman House last evening. The campaign is to open May 25 and an effort will be made to complete the work within forty-eight hours.

Several preliminary gatherings have been held to make arrangements for the organization meet last evening. Committees have been at work for some time laying the foundations for a campaign which will give Appleton one of the most modern hospitals in the middle west.

The city campaign is to be conducted under the direction of an executive committee of seven to be appointed by Mr. Frank. This committee will outline the plan of campaign, appoint the captains and make all necessary arrangements for the work. The campaign in the county and in territory served by the hospital, outside of Appleton, is under the direction of Attorney A. H. Krugmeier and Gustave Keller.

It was announced that nearly every manufacturer in the Fox river valley has agreed to donate a full allotment to the hospital. This allotment is based on $25 for each employee and the donations range from $37,000 to $300. More than $100,000 has been donated by the manufacturers and more is expected.

Sisters in charge of St. Elizabeth hospital have agreed to donate $200,000 to the fund and they will also assume the obligation of paying all expenses in excess of $500,000. It was decided to appoint a building committee which will work with the Sisters in erecting the building so that every dollar donated by Appleton and Outagamie county people will be accounted for. The Sisters have engaged one of the best known hospital architects in the United States to supervise the work.

The new structure is to be located directly south of the present building which will be used for a maternity hospital when the new building is completed. Construction work will be started as soon after the campaign as possible so that Appleton will have adequate hospital facilities in the near future.

John Conway, temporary chairman of last night's meeting, outlined the work that has been done thus far in the campaign and explained the difficulties under which the nurses at St. Elizabeth hospital are working in order to make clear the great need for more hospital facilities. Names of manufacturers and the amounts they have donated were read by Major A. J. McKay of the Combined Locks Paper company, who is chairman of the manufacturers' committee.

Mr. Frank asserted that he has never taken part in a campaign which seemed to him to be so worthy of support as this one to build a larger hospital. He pledged himself to give as much of his time as is necessary to make the campaign a success and appealed to all public spirited Appleton men to co-operate with him. Brief addresses were also delivered by John R. Dierreich, E. H. Harwood, Gustave Keller, Thomas Gallagher, William Fountain, H. L. Davis and P. H. Ryan, all pledging their support to the campaign. Thomas A. Gallagher was elected secretary of the campaign committee.

All the speakers were most optimistic of success, asserting that Appleton people have been waiting for this campaign because they have long realized that St. Elizabeth hospital has been deserving of support because of the unselfish service which the sisters in charge have given to the public. The history of the institution was briefly reviewed and it was stated that the sisters have given an $85,000 worth of service to Appleton since the hospital was founded without receiving a cent in return. This sum includes only service and does not include food and housing provided people too poor to pay for hospital service.

GIDEONS TO PREACH IN CHURCH OF CITY SUNDAY MORNING

WORK OF TRAVELERS' ORGANIZATION TO BE PRESENTED TO APPLETON PEOPLE

Wisconsin Gideons are to present their work in the pulpits of the city churches on Sunday morning. One speaker assigned to each church will deliver either a ten minute address or will take the entire time usually allotted for the sermon. G. A. Briggs of Baraboo, Gideon evangelist, is to preach at the First Methodist church and a member will also occupy the pulpit of the Baptist church. None except Mr. Briggs has been definitely assigned.

The people of Appleton will be asked to assist the organization in its plan to place Bibles in each room of four Appleton hotels, Sherman House, Hotel Appleton, Briggs Hotel and Northwestern House. About 300 Bibles are required for this purpose.

ELEMENTS OF PANIC ARE MISSING FROM SITUATION IN U. S.

EXPERT SAYS OVERPRODUCTION AND CONTRACTIONS IN SUPPLY COULD BE ONLY BASIS FOR CRASH

(Special to Post-Crescent) Washington, D. C.—A lot of people have been trying lately to "sell" us the story that there is to be a panic and a universal smash-up in business, says a government expert. The arguments are quite convincing. The land boom, the high prices, the extension of credits, the speculative fever—all the things that foretell the bust-up.

Although in a very small minority, the view is to defend the negative of this proposition. I do so for one reason, namely, all the precedents which are cited find no application for the simple reason that the present state of world economics is unprecedented. If things were as they ordinarily are, then all these signs would prove true signs.

ALL COUNTRIES AND PERIODS SHOWN IN STYLES FOR PRESENT

CONGLOMERATION MAKES IT EASY TO BE IN STYLE—HISTORIES AND MODICES ARE RETURNING

(By Margaret Rohe) (Special to Post-Crescent) Take a goodly bit of Spanish. With a dash of pure Chinese. Then stir in some Egyptian. A pinch of Beninese. A flavoring of Rumanian. Of Checho Slav a load. Then with French dressing serve it. It is the season's mode.

New York.—They seem to have tried everything in this season's fashion except a rascal. All countries and all periods have been conglomerated and stirred up together with the result that you can wear almost anything of to-day and be in style. The craze for things Egyptian comes itself mostly to head dresses, hats, evening gowns and wraps. Costly turbans bejeweled and jetted are almost replicas of Cleopatra's best. Evening gowns and straight lined evening coats of Old Egyptian hats, straight front panels in lotus scarf and this designs are bright with gay hues and metallic threads.

The Chinese influence is also noticeable at the top where it breaks out in perky little Chinese mandarin hats, dangling rich silken tassels and in the coat wraps cut on the Chinese coat lines. Chinese embroidery also plays a big part in gown embellishment. As for the Rumanian, Checho-Slav and Balkan touches they waste no time in splashing all their gay wool embroideries over the waists of the moment. The frocks of black Chantilly lace, one flounce above the other to make the skirts, fairly reek of Hispaniola, the land of the castinet and the bull. The black lace drapes, boleros and tight black velvet bodices all have a decided Madrid or Seville flavor.

As for the periods they stretch from B. C. to A. D. with everything from Grecian draperies to Louis Quinze hoop skirts and Victorian polonaise and bustles.

Indeed the bustle is backing to the fore with amazing persistency and promises to break the straight lines of our beloved one piece models more effectively than even have the paniers. The tight bodiced, bouffant paniers of old have indeed almost become an old story so generally accepted are they by those who can wear them but now the bustle with new old novelty threatens to back them off the fashionable boards. Whether in black or beige taffeta for day time wear or in rose and silver brocade for evening the bustle frock is a quaint and attractive delight. It invariably is made with a snug bodice which usually buttons down the front like an old time basque and the sleeves are nothing more than a hint or a suggestion. Sheer white flimsies of organ-die or batiste finish the low cut of the taffeta bodices on both the bustle and the panier gowns.

It is truly a golden age of fashion, dear alike to the hearts of the slim, the fat, the old, the young and the dark or fair. There's a style for every type and just so you hit on the one best adapted to you, why everything's lovely.

"But I do not know him," replied the acquaintance addressed. "How shall I identify him?"

REFUSES $360,000 FOR 100 ACRE FARM

JUDGE T. H. RYAN, BACK FROM CALIFORNIA, TELLS OF LUTHER LINDAUER ORCHARD

Judge T. H. Ryan returned Thursday night from a two weeks' business trip to Utah and California. About the only cities he visited were Salt Lake City, Ogden and Los Angeles. He was greatly impressed with them and especially with Los Angeles and what he saw of California.

In company with Luther Lindauer I rode for miles over highways the sides of which were banked with flowers," said the judge. "I ate more oranges than I ever did before and most of them came from Mr. Lindauer's orchard."

Judge Ryan says that Mr. Lindauer owns an orchard of 100 acres which he purchased several years ago. It cost him in the neighborhood of $1,800 per acre. He has had several opportunities to sell it at nearly double that price and is holding it for a still higher price.

During his brief stay in the vicinity of Los Angeles, Judge Ryan had the pleasure of meeting W. L. Rhodes, Louis Ullman and several other former Appleton residents. He said that building operations were going on in all the cities he visited and that the people appeared to be very prosperous. Practically everyone who wanted work was employed.

"Rent is high in Los Angeles," said Judge Ryan, "but I found meals very reasonable. All I had to pay for breakfast and lunch in one of the leading hotels in Los Angeles was fifty cents, while dinner was seventy-five cents. Similar meals in Wisconsin hotels would have cost more than double that amount."

FREE ADMISSION TO POULTRY SHOW

FOX RIVER VALLEY ASSOCIATION WILL MAKE FAIR AS INSTRUCTIVE AS POSSIBLE

The Fox River Poultry and Pet Stock association has decided to show no admission to its poultry show next January. This has been made possible by the appropriation of $500 from the county board, by funds in the association's treasury, and by the regular state aid fund.

It is the intention to make the next show one of education as well as a place to display prize birds. The association will work in conjunction with the department of agriculture of the state university which will send some of its most expert men to instruct the public in poultry raising.

The usual premiums will be offered and an effort will be made to make the show the best one in the history of the association. Through the efforts of the association, poultry raising in Outagamie county has become a profitable industry and this spring breeders of chicks have found it impossible to supply the demand.

Coming Events Cast their Shadows Before

IT'S the man of farsight and vision that turns the conditions of today to his future advantages. The dollar of today looks mighty small in relation to its buying power and most of us are getting a sufficient number of these dollars to meet our current cost of living and a few dollars over. But the days are not far off when that dollar will grow in purchasing power and when it does the dollars will not be so plentifully or generously circulated. The man who saves those little dollars now and puts them away in a safe Savings Bank will find they have grown tremendously in importance and usefulness when dollars are scarce and when the spend-thrifts and improvident have carelessly failed to conserve against future opportunity and need.

Now is the time to save -- now while the dollars are easy to get. You cannot "eat your cake and have it too." So let's save the cake for a time when it will be most substantial and harder to procure.

Save those little 1920 dollars. They'll be mighty big dollars in 1925, or before.

THE NEXT STEP

Zoning is the next logical step in the development of all American cities that is, in those which do not already have zoning legislation.

Zoning would designate residential, manufacturing, and business districts. It would regulate the height and character of buildings.

Under zoning, one who builds a $6,000 dwelling would not find his investment depreciated 50 per cent because a garage or factory or tenement house of poor type has been erected nearby or next door.

Another thing, found over and over again in American cities that would be made impossible is the close grouping of say, a dry cleaning establishment, a private dwelling, a flat building and a couple of stores.

New York about three years ago passed the first local zoning ordinance in the country. A few other cities quickly followed. But the majority of cities of consequence have not yet done so.

Renewed efforts to convince all elements of communities that zoning is beneficial and healthful—outside of the stabilization it brings to real estate—will be made as a result of the National City Planning conference, recently held at Cincinnati.

Zoning means protection to the small home owner, to industry and the future of the city.

SNIPING CHIEF EXECUTIVES

President Washington once took to the senate in person a treaty which he had negotiated with the Cherokee Indians and requested that it be ratified as soon as it had been read, and when a senator proposed that time be taken for the discussion of so important a matter the president left the chamber in "a great heat," it is related, saying to a friend as he departed that "he'd be damned if he ever went there again." Washington also wrote to Hamilton in 1796 that the "cry" against the treaty negotiated with Great Britain was "like that against a mad dog," and in regard to the attacks on him by his political opponents he declared that "such exaggerated and indecent terms could scarcely be applied to a Negro, a notorious defaulter, or even a common pickpocket." The Father of his country not only wanted his way because he believed he was right but was jealous of his personal dignity.

Lincoln also aroused bitter political opposition as well as personal dislike by his absent-mindedness and melancholy. His neighbors actually said he was crazy, pointing to the fact that he often passed his best friends in the street without seeing them. He wanted his way, too, believing he was right, and in consequence he was called a "political huckster," a "second-rate lawyer," a "usurper," a "despot," and the like. Similar charges were brought against Roosevelt, a president who yielded to none in determination to have his way. His being a more modern type, there was not lacking a distinguished alienist who found his exaggerated "megalomania" an interesting subject for study, and this noticeably impressed disgruntled members of his own party. President Cleveland's rock-like tenacity of purpose, when his mind was once made up, was so resented that some disgruntled and possibly even self-admiring persons actually went the length of manufacturing a whispered story that he "got drunk and beat his wife."

Just now many suppose that President Wilson has been attacked more bitterly than any of his predecessors, but this is only because the outcry against certain other occupants of the White house has faded from the public memory. In one particular, however, he is more unfortunate than the earlier presidents. The detractors of Washington, for example, did not publish magazines or have eminent neurologists on their staff ready to summon psychology, pathology or what not to the aid of an enemy with a grudge. Nobody said Washington or Lincoln was rendered "temporarily unfit" by "the heart of a batrachian" (or frog), but that was because nobody was up to such modern smartness.

ALLIES RECONCILED

Great Britain, France and Italy have reconciled their differences at San Remo. That is the most important development of the conference. The arrangements made by the premiers are secondary to the reestablishment of amity. Germany cannot count on furthering her own interests through discord among the war's victors.

The allies do not always think along the same lines. That is a normal condition of national life. But, debates which lead to a rupture of intimate relationships can be avoided. They must be avoided for many years. Only Germany can reap an advantage from them, and by no other means can German advantages be reaped.

There are various opinions among the allies as to the best means of dealing with Germany during the coming years. But, there is unanimity of opinion that Germany must not be allowed to reconstruct her military machine, and must be compelled to pay a war indemnity to the utmost of her ability.

How to get the maximum results from these common desires is not primarily a matter for politicians to settle. Politicians have tried and failed to find a way since the signing of the armistice to square with campaign promises. Military, financial and economic experts will now be entrusted with the work. Representatives of the German republic will, for the first time, join them at the Spa meeting set for May 25th. That seems to have been the basis on which the allied premiers, reached their agreement at San Remo. It establishes a precedent which will mean much for Europe's recovery.

WHITE HOUSE PERQUISITES

Election to the presidential office brings fame, power and opportunities for wide usefulness, but this is not all that the exalted position offers. The White House is an exceedingly comfortable berth, and on a salary of $75,000 a year a thrifty president can save quite a lot of money even in these times. A president's expenses have been estimated at about $25,000 annually, but if he chooses he need not spend so much. His chief expense is entertaining, and beyond that and the cost of food and clothing he pays for very little. He gets his palatial home with heat and light free and most of his servants are paid out of the public treasury, those furnished him gratis including even his valet and his wife's maid. The government pays for four men "chambermaids," two laundry women, the butler, the housekeeper, two chauffeurs, and a social secretary. The president himself pays only the cook, an assistant cook, a scullion, and two or three other servants—a very curious distinction or drawing of the line.

All the upkeep and new furniture for the White house are paid for by the government. The cost of entertainments is greatly cut down because the marine band furnishes the music and the green-houses offer an abundance of plants and cut flowers the year round. The president has a yacht at his command and the government allows him $25,000 a year for his traveling expenses. He has even a summer cottage to which he may retire if he elects to remain in Washington, located in a beautiful park surrounding the Soldiers' Home in the outskirts of the city. His doctors' bills are paid, his telegrams are free, and stationery is furnished him gratis. All this amounts to much less than the real salaries paid European monarchs, but the president is well cared for by his country.

A MOTHER'S HEART

What was the Power which planned
A mother's hand
And made it patient to her child's demand,
To work, to play,
The five-long day
And through the night to hush all harm away?

What was the Impulse which designed
A mother's mind
And made it gentle, generous and kind,
Which makes her child the themes
Of whimsical hopes and schemes,
And paints its future with her rainbow-dreams?

And what the Infinite Art
Which set its counterpart
Constant and warm within a mother's heart,
Whereby its inmost pulse is planned

UNROMANTIC HYGIENE—4
Swaddling and Rickets

The English are slow but sure. The medical profession over there ambles along about ten years behind the American and Canadian profession, but there is some virtue in this leisurely progress; there are not so many false trails to retrace to the main route. However, when the English doctors do get the idea they get it right. And they cling to it doggedly—bulldoggedly—even though it turns out to have been all wrong. Uric acid eliminators, for example, still enjoy a certain vogue with the rank and file of the English profession. The beloved Oser did not arrive in Oxford early enough, or maybe not young enough.

I take great pleasure in introducing today, friends, physicians and fellow citizens, an English physician of parts, a man handicapped but not weighed down with his share of the alphabet, a London baby specialist, physician to the Queen's Hospital for Children and to the City of London Hospital for Diseases of the Child, Eric Pritchard, M. A., M. D., (Oxon.). Dr. Pritchard expatiates on the causation of rickets in a recent issue of the New York Medical Journal, but the wisdom of his utterances applies as well to many other disturbances of health and nutrition, metabolic disturbances of adults as well as children. He shows an intimacy with advanced physiology which is worthy of attention.

"Any interference with the due oxidation of food elements to their normal end products, carbonic acid and water, will conduce to the formation of semi-oxidized bodies of large molecular size and acid in reaction, which must be neutralized as quickly as they are formed to prevent a dangerous rise in the hydrogen ion concentration of the blood."

This is of course nine-tenths Sanscrit to a lay reader. As nearly as I can translate, it means that conditions which decrease the amount of oxygen absorbed and utilized by the body conduce to the state of acidosis, acid intoxication, which is a troublesome, sometimes a disastrous feature of many acute and chronic disease conditions.

You see, Pritchard agrees absolutely with what has been harped on here—more oxygen; less clothing; more exercise; less artificial heat—but let him say it himself:

"Overfeeding of infants must necessarily lead to the production of a large number of acid bodies which would draw on the alkaline reserves of the blood and thus tend to produce a condition of acidosis."

"Want of exercise, for instance, by the limitation of such muscular activities as are concerned in kicking, rolling, walking, etc." (almost reached 2 miles of O tres in diem on the hoof, what?) "will also predispose to the same result (acidosis). In fact, muscular exercise is the one great prophylactic against rickets."

Inconceivable that acid bodies should exist in the blood sufficiently strong to dissolve acid salts (time salts) out of the blood. This is beside the question, for we are dealing with the withholding of the mineral matter from the bone which is in process of formation and not with its extraction from completely developed bone.

No matter how correctly fed or how good the other hygienic conditions, infants swaddled in tight clothing invariably become rachitic (rickety)—because exercise is prevented.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

No Consumptive Inheritance

If a person in sound health with no consumptive inheritance . . . . .

ANSWER—A person has a much better chance of inheriting four hundred million dollars than of inheriting tuberculosis, if that is what you mean. Consumption is never inherited, only acquired through prolonged personal contact with the disease, irrespective of relationships.

Iron for the Blood

What do you consider the best iron for the blood? (E. D. W.)

ANSWER—The same iron that is good for the body as a whole—the blood, in health, contains precious little iron. Foods from natural sources furnish the body all the iron it can utilize. It is exceedingly doubtful whether any iron taken internally ever adds one little bit to the blood or its strength. That notion is seldom exploited nowadays by intelligent physicians. If you imagine your "blood is weak," send a stamped self-addressed envelope for some detailed information about anemia and its nature.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Saturday, May 11, 1895

Garrit Thorn, Jr., of New London, was in the city on business.

Mrs. Henry Renter and children of Rice Lake, were visiting Mrs. Renter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Kamps.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Maynard.

Mrs. H. W. Ulrich left for Chicago on a several days' visit with friends.

Hon. Richard Guenther of the state board of control, was in Appleton inspecting the poor house, jail, lockup, and other institutions of like character.

The Thilmany Pulp and Paper company of Kaukauna was about to add another tissue paper machine to its plant, which was to double its capacity. The plans for the new addition in which it was to be located were drawn by C. B. Pride.

George Roblee sold his dray business to Thomas Jackson and purchased a controlling interest in the livery stable on Appleton street formerly conducted by McGillan & Kraemer.

Mrs. William Rafner died at her home in the Fifth ward at the age of sixty years.

Hall & Showers' circus was to open a three days' engagement near Willy's flour mill the following Thursday.

Considerable damage was done in Freedom and Osborn by a storm that swept over that part of the county the day previous.

Prof. Charles Mercia was to occupy the pulpit of the Congregational church the following morning.

The Inter-High School Athletic League, which included Appleton, Oshkosh, Fond du Lac and Ripon, was to hold its annual athletic meet at Fond du Lac on Memorial day.

"In a nice, courteous manner," postcards A. J. L., "I called the attention of the waiter to the fact that he had jabbed his thumb into my butter and suggested that it would be much better for him to handle the butter without jabbing said thumb, etc. And in an equally nice, courteous manner he replied, 'You're right about it. There's no sense in gettin' your hands greased up that way.'"

Bob Always Likes to Say a Good Word for a Man Who Is Down and Out

"Jane, dear! You've got to stop thinking about the whole blamed Honolulu affair," commanded my husband. "Three days ago we reviewed and condensed the letters which detailed the tragedy and since then you've talked about nothing else. Please, my love—"

"I can't help being anxious to get the next letters, Bob. Neither can you, it's easy enough for you to order me to shape my mind according to a pattern you set for it. That's your right as a dear devoted husband, I suppose, but you see, my mind just runs along in its own way."

"Seems to me, I've noticed that little peculiarity of your mind," chuckled my husband. "Also of your tongue," he added. "And then he gave me a real kiss to show that he didn't mean to be horrid. Growing nicer with time is the test of a really choice husband, I suppose."

"I can't help thinking how queer it is that Chrys should be nursing Certis. I can't help wondering how Katherine is feeling now that Don Manuel is dead, as a result of her own plot—an end she couldn't possibly foresee. Maybe she loved him. At any rate, he was devoted to her. But you can never tell about her—she's such a flirt. Perfectly ready to flirt with you, Bob. Yes, she is. You needn't scowl so, my dear. And isn't it curious that Chrys should have sent that crazy sailor off in a small boat with the conspirators? Sometimes I fancy she half expected Sandy McCall to give Certis and the Russians a good big scare! Chrys isn't above liking revenge, you know. It surely must be very disagreeable to believe that you have been intrigued into a mock wedding ceremony. But, of course, I don't believe Chrys went so far as to want the poor sailor to murder his passengers. Certainly she never dreamed he would kill himself in order to get rid of the plotters. Of course I don't consider him a murderer. To me he is a martyr. Now, Bob, just imagine the situation—"

My husband interrupted my monologue with a violent shake of his head and an indignant growl:

"Not me! You're doing very well, Jane!"

"Anyway, I can't help thinking continually about the sailor. He died to promote the peace of the world, now didn't he, Bob? Every time a conspiracy like that is scotched, this weary world has a fresh chance to settle down to a real peace, hasn't it?"

"Sandy did a big thing for us all. But, my girl, you're getting hysterical. I can't see that Chrys was responsible for the tragedy, as you imply. She was impulsive as usual. That's her way. That's Dad's way. They think they can shape fate to suit themselves."

"Fate surely knotted up the threads of life when Hamilton Certis became Chrys' patient!" I exclaimed. "Now that he is sick and aboard her yacht, the man is safely outside of her revenge for a time!"

My dear husband always seizes an opportunity to say a good word for a man who is down and out. Naturally he hunted for something kind to say about Certis and finally he evolved this:

"Cert has a grand chance to repent, my dear!"

"Repent? A man can't—at his age!" I exclaimed in astonishment.

"There's a bit of good in every villain, I suppose," said Bob. "Consider Certis from an international point of view and he is a second-rate. In every other relation, he has always been a gentleman. In Germany he would be honored. Here he is hounded as a spy. Geography determines a man's point of view."

"But there's our personal relation to Certis," I said.

"I haven't forgotten it. Personally, I don't believe he ever deceived Chrys. It's more logical to suppose that the little lady lawyer was mistaken. I've known Certis so long. At times I've been deucedly jealous of him. Finally the war made us enemies. In the end, we came to blows. Nevertheless, my dear, as one may judge another, I can't think Certis capable of playing a vulgar trick on the Lorimers. He's a high-priced political second-rate, not a cheap cad."

"Then our Chrys may turn out to be a real duchess after all!" I exclaimed.

Foot Vigor

NO MATTER what you do—outdoors or indoors—work or play—you never can have real enjoyment unless your feet are comfortable and strong. So much depends on your feet.

Don't you think it is very much worth while to try and keep your feet youthful and strong? The mere matter of selecting shoes carefully is a small price to pay for foot health.

Arch Preserver Shoes preserve foot health because they fit the feet, come up to the arch and stay up, providing a permanent, non-changing tread base for the foot—to keep the arch from falling down.

Yet Arch Preserver Shoes are stylish and you always feel well dressed in them.

Won't you let us show you how well we can fit your feet in Arch Preservers?

CLOSER RELATIONS BETWEEN TEACHER AND CHILD URGED

PROF. W. C. HEWITT OF OSHKOSH NORMAL, SPEAKS AT COLUMBIAN FORUM MEETING

Prof. W. C. Hewitt of the Oshkosh Normal was the speaker last night at the meeting of the Columbian school forum. His talk was based on his own experiences and contained many suggestions for making education more effective. He did not ignore the importance of the intellectual work, but his talk related mainly to the relations between pupil and teacher, pupil and parent, parent and teacher.

"Education is not entirely an intellectual operation," he said. "The biggest lessons of life come from the sympathy and insight of the teacher. The child may forget many a lesson but he will never forget the touch of life to life. The biggest lesson plan is

HEIRS CONTEST WILL OF SEYMOUR WOMAN

TWO SETS OF SURVIVORS EACH HAVE WILLS WHICH THEY WISH TO HAVE PROBATED

Maria Magdalena Siebert of the town of Seymour, a centenarian, who lost both her hearing and sight some time before her death, is alleged by her heirs to have left two will of different dates which have resulted in a contest as to which shall be admitted to probate. Judge Botensack has heard the testimony on both sides and has taken the matter under advisement.

The last will is dated Aug. 2, 1918 and is the one which Minnie Wolf, petitioner, through her attorney, E. C. Smith of Seymour, is endeavoring to have admitted to probate. Edward Siebert and others, through their attorney, P. J. Rooney, filed objections to the probate of said will and proposed for the approval and admission to probate of an instrument purporting to be the last will and testa-

MUST HAVE A CLEAR VISION OF FUTURE

MRS. D. O. KINSMAN URGES GREEN BAY CLUB WOMEN TO HELP THEIR COUNTRY

Individuals, to be successful, must have a clear vision of what they wish to accomplish, and with that vision as a goal, must strive every effort to realize it. Mrs. D. O. Kinsman, Appleton, said in an address before the Woman's Club at Green Bay, Wednesday afternoon.

Patience, faith and will power are requisite qualities of realization, the speaker said.

"Cultivate a true sense of values," Mrs. Kinsman urged. "There are too many big things in the world to confine our activities to the smaller things of life. Women are to have a bigger part in the government and they will be more able to cope with the problems before them if they study these problems. Educate the children, especially the girls, in economics and other studies so that they may be more able to exert influence in the community."

Concluding, Mrs. Kinsman said that each club should do its best to improve conditions in the community. Mrs. Kinsman was the guest of honor at an informal luncheon given by Mrs. H. E. Dutton at the Copper Kettle, and also at a tea given at the Copper Kettle by Mrs. Biesch.

Games and fortune telling provided lively entertainment during the evening. At intervals, however, this was interrupted by a ring at the doorbell, secretly accomplished by a clever arrangement of wiring within reach of a member of the party. On each of these occasions, a May basket was discovered for the bride and groom-to-be. Each basket held an envelope containing the price of some article of kitchen ware pictured on the envelope.

The refreshments were served in the same novel fashion. The last basket found was a clothes basket, which upon investigation proved to contain a lunch for the evening.

between the teacher's heart and the child's life."

In speaking of the relation between pupil and parents, Prof. Hewitt showed what a profound influence the attitude of the parent toward the school has on the child. He said that the smallest remarks dropped by the careless parent in regard to the school influence the child.

"People do not realize how much the community is concerned with the real life of the school. Many have no interest in the school except the casual interest because of having a child in school. In other cases people are altogether different. The community must back up the school with active co-operation."

Prof. Hewitt stressed the importance of the relations between parent and teacher.

"The teacher should know the parent; the parent should know the teacher. No teacher can teach unless she knows the character of the home of her pupils and she can only learn this by getting into their homes. On the other hand the parent should get into the school, take an active interest in what his child is doing, should know his teacher."

Following the talk, the remainder of the evening was spent in dancing. Music was furnished by a three piece orchestra.

First Ward and St. Mary teams of the grade school baseball league maintained their unblemished records on Thursday afternoon by one-sided victories. The Catholics won from Columbus-Franklin 7 to 3, and First Ward trimmed Zion 22 to 7.

Lincoln school with Renke in the box, easily defeated Fifth Ward 19 to 3. Renke, pitching his first game for the victors, kept the Fifth warders in check, while his team-mates batted opposing pitchers all over the lot.

St. Mary scored 26 runs in three innings and walloped Columbus-Franklin 37 to 3. The St. Mary team has shown the greatest hitting power of any squad in the league, and promises to stage a hard fight for the flag.

Inability to hit Booth spelled a 9 to 3 defeat for Fourth Ward against Third Ward at the Fourth Ward grounds. The losers put up a hard battle, but Booth's hurling was too much.

Scoring thirteen runs in the fifth and sixth innings, the fast coming First Ward nine handed the Zion team a 23 to 7 lacing. Crowe pitched good ball for the victors, and kept the Lutheran hits scattered.

STRONG AVIATION PROGRAM NEEDED FOR COMING YEAR

BILLION DOLLAR WAR INVESTMENT SHOULD FORM FOUNDATION FOR DEFINITE AIR PROGRAM

(By Harry B. Hunt)
(Special to Post-Crescent)
Washington — The United States government has an investment of considerably more than one billion dollars in aeronautics. This represents expenditures in experiments, tests and research and in physical equipment incurred chiefly during the period of the war.

Is this billion-dollar investment to be regarded primarily as an expense of the past war, and written off the books as a war loss, or is it to be considered as capital invested in aeronautics, expended chiefly in experimental and promotion work, of much more value to our future prowess in aviation than it was to our military strength in the war, and thus be made the foundation of a definite, comprehensive, carefully-worked-out program for the development of aerial transportation and defense in the future?

Future in Doubt
Indications are that Congress will take the easier course, which is the first: that it not only will fail to enact legislation to develop national strength in the air in any effective way, either military or commercial, but will permit the disintegration of the service to such an extent as to wipe out the greater part of the advantages purchased by the billion already spent.

The present strength of the United States army air service is 1153 officers and 11,053 enlisted men.

Of the officers, 146 are regular army men and 1,007 men holding temporary commissions.

The army reorganization bill now before Congress provides for an "air corps" personnel of 1,516 officers and 16,000 enlisted men, including flying cadets to a number not exceeding 2,500.

Appropriations proposed for the support of the army air service amount to $27,255,000.

The real problem with which Congress is confronted, however, is not simply that presented by the air service section of the army reorganization bill. The bigger problem involves decision on these points:

Does or does not national preparedness involve the creation of an independent air force, distinct from the army and navy serving in the air a purpose as distinct as that of the army on land and the navy on water?

Should such an independent air force be purely military, or should it perform, in peace time, commercial functions as well?

"Regulars" Object
Influences within the War Department are opposed to seeing a new branch of the service developed on a scale which would jeopardize the comparative standing of the old branches and the prestige of regular officers now dominating the department.

The air service of today is not a "regular" service, as the fact that out of 1,153 commissioned officers only 146 have come up via the West Point route proves. And the proposal to develop a military air force either as an independent or fighting machine outside the War Department or in any way except as a force subordinate to existing branches of infantry and artillery is opposed in army circles.

The result of this situation is that favorable action by the present Congress is altogether unlikely on legislation proposing comprehensive development of aviation, such as is proposed by the New and Curry bills now pending.

These bills by Senator New of Indiana and Representative Curry of California identical in most provisions, call for the creation of a department of air, with a director of air sitting in the president's cabinet and charged with fostering, developing and promoting "all matters pertaining to aeronautics, including the collection and dissemination of information relating thereto and with the purchase, manufacture, maintenance and production of all aircraft for the United States."

Such flying forces and equipment as might be needed by the army, navy, post office or other government departments would be supplied through the department of air, and responsibility for aerial defense, preparation of aerial photographs, licensing of civilian aviators and aeronauts and the promulgation of rules and regulations governing all flying would rest with this department.

The assignment of units to serve with the army and navy, either in peace or war, would be made at the direction of the president, and the tactical direction of such units while so assigned would be under the exclusive control of the military or naval commanders and subject to the discipline and regulations of the branch of the service under which they were operating.

Such a department, it is believed, might salvage a very large part of the billion dollars already expended, saving not so much the material as the experience and knowledge of aeronautics and aviation as capital for further development, and thus give the country some definite benefits from its wartime investment in aviation.

YOUNGSTERS SERIOUS IN "CLEAN-UP" WORK

That the boys and girls of the city are taking seriously the Woman's Club City Beautiful campaign is evidenced by numerous incidents cited by those who are observing results.

A lad who was thoughtlessly jabbing a knife into a tree was roundly scolded by another who caught him doing it. Love for and protection of useful and ornamental trees is one of the things the boys are learning in this campaign.

"Say, if yuh don't quit throwing stones at them birds, I'm goin to punch your head and git the police after yuh," was another vigorous comment heard in the vicinity of a school house. The boy that offered to do the punching, might not have pleased his teacher or the Woman's Club in English composition, but he surely was getting something into his mind and heart that needed to be there.

HENBEST HOME TO BE CONSERVATORY ANNEX

The Dr. Henbest residence on Lawrence street purchased by the college will be converted into a studio as an annex to the Lawrence Conservatory of Music. The growth of the conservatory has made expansion an immediate necessity and this means has been taken to relieve the congestion.

It is expected that most of the rooms will be fitted up as practice rooms with a few as studios for the faculty. Final plans have not been prepared but the annex will be ready for next year at least.

POTATO SHIPPING SEASON NEAR END

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Madison, Wis.,—Up to and including May 4, according to the semi-monthly bullet of the Division of Markets Wisconsin has shipped 17,178 cars of potatoes, an amount considerably below the estimate of shipments made last fall.

About nine-tenths of the potato warehouses in the state are now closed which indicates that the season is fast drawing to a close. Shipments have decreased from the 30 to 50 cars daily average of two weeks ago to 10 to 11 cars at the present time. The season will practically be over by May 10 as only scattering shipments will be moving after that time. Warehouses are now busy checking over the season's work and as one warehouseman stated recently: "Our books will show we made a good profit this year but we need it to make up for some of last year's big losses."

STEVENS POINT TRACK MEN ARE HERE TODAY

WILSON ELECTED BY SOCIALISTS, LEADER ASSERTS

ADMINISTRATION CONDEMNED FOR ALLEGED FAILURE TO CARRY OUT ITS PROMISES

By United Press Leased Wire
New York.—Woodrow Wilson was elected president over Charles Evans Hughes, by the votes of socialists, Morris Hillquit told the national convention of the socialist arm of America in the keynote speech here today.

"If there remains any large section of workers who put their trust in the old party messiahs, Woodrow Wilson must have effectively separated them from the make believe world of all." "For be it remembered that in 1916, Woodrow Wilson ran as a radical. He promised socialism through the short cut of the democratic party and thousands of radicals voted for him rather than throw away their votes on the 'hopeless candidates' of the socialist party."

Hillquit then attacked the administration declaring the "monstrous national psychology which Wilson has helped to create has produced such a variety of political types as Palmer, Burleson, Sweet and Lusk."

Mention of the name of Eugene V. Debs, now in the federal prison at Atlanta, Ga., caused a great demonstration.

Hillquit was elected chairman of the convention over J. Louis Engel, of Chicago, by a vote of 91 to 29.

George Hampel, Milwaukee, was elected vice chairman and Walter Cook, New York, secretary.

COAL PRODUCTION 25 PER CENT SHORT

RAILROAD CAR SHORTAGE IS BLAMED FOR 3,000,000 TON UNDER PRODUCTION

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—Intensive coal production now is running short approximately 2,000,000 tons a week or about 25 per cent under the present demands, according to reports to the United States Geological Survey.

Railroad car shortage is blamed for the short coal production. The cut-law railroad strike is still responsible for a great part of the car shortage, officials said today.

Chairman Kendall, of the car service division, said terminal crews now are from 19 to 45 per cent short in many cities.

"The strike is interfering with movements chiefly in Cleveland, Chicago, Toledo, St. Louis, New York, Buffalo, Pittsburgh and to some extent in Kansas City," Kendall said.

Coal shortage is having a serious effect on operation of mills throughout Ohio and Indiana, according to reports received here. How production fell off when the strike got well started is shown by the reports to the Geological Survey, according to which the production has ranged like this:

Week ending April 17, 7,562,000 tons.

April 24, 8,485,000 tons.

May 1, 8,898,000 tons.

$217,000 SHORTAGE SOUGHT IN RAILWAY BROTHERHOOD SCRAP

G. E. BARKER, GRAND PRESIDENT, FACES SENSATIONAL CHARGES—OTHER OFFICIALS CHARGED

(By Russ Shonont)
(Special to Post-Crescent)

Detroit, Mich.—Grand officers of the United Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employees and Railway Shop Laborers are divided into two camps, each accusing the other of gross neglect of duty. Experts are at work on the books trying to trace $217,000 alleged unaccounted for.

Enemies of cooperation have seized on the controversy as an argument against cooperation and allege that the brotherhood's vast cooperative venture is on the rocks with $1,000,000 deficit due to mismanagement.

Both factions agree in declaring that the cooperative department is not affected and that the union's chain of factories and its distributing machinery is in good financial condition and making satisfactory progress.

Here are the salient developments of the controversy:

Leader Quits Office.
G. E. Barker, grand president from 1910 and drawing $14,000 a year as one of the highest paid officials in the world, resigned under fire March 18. Four bookkeepers in the treasurer's office charged Barker with mismanagement of $500,000 in funds and declared that $217,000 had vanished without record on checks issued to Barker.

The board of trustees at once put experts at the books to investigate the truth of the charges.

In a few weeks these experts, it is said, showed that Grand Secretary-Treasurer George Seal had been negligent in permitting Barker to manipulate the funds. Seal resigned. Later he withdrew his resignation and now he wants the job back.

While the investigation was in progress, the four bookkeepers, Ted Saunders, L. Miller, H. Brown and B. A. Gladstone, were discharged and at once offered their alleged information for sale, according to brotherhood officers.

Charges Made

That "spilled the beans." Barker at once charged that he had not been given a chance to explain and that his expenditures were proper.

Seal charged William Dorey, chairman, and Leo I. Kennedy, a member of the executive board, with gross neglect of duty. He says they would not let him file charges against them. While Seal won't tell what he charged he hints darkly that Dorey and Kennedy know why there was only $75,000 in the treasury instead of $250,000.

When the union wished to strike, he says, and couldn't for lack of funds, Seal says he resigned without a proper "amount of thought."

The prosecuting attorney's office is making an investigation of the charge that Barker misappropriated $217,000 in funds.

So with two sets of charges pending hearing before the executive board and with auditors rushing the check of the books of the brotherhood the atmosphere is tense at headquarters here.

Order Is Protected

"Whatever happens the membership of the brotherhood is protected," says T. S. Britten, attorney for the brotherhood. "Barker and Seal were under bond of $100,000 each. If there is a shortage of $217,000 we can sue to recover the bonds. The investigation of the books shows that this is the approximate total not yet accounted for. It is absolutely false that the union's industrial ventures are shaky. Our factories have been appraised at more than they cost us."

"But we collected $200,000 in dues last month and the average monthly income is $200,000," says Britten. "At that rate we couldn't be insolvent through a loss of $217,000. We have available assets of $1,500,000."

"We have $500,000 invested in factories, $500,000 in securities and mortgages, real estate worth $255,000 and a printing plant valued at $50,000. There are other assets also."

Cheating sum, or chicle, was used by the Indians before the days of Columbus, as a means of quenching their thirst.

POLICE NAB MAN AS HE WAS ABOUT TO ESCAPE

Orin Miracle, a former resident of Appleton, was arrested yesterday morning on an alleged statutory charge involving an Appleton girl. He came here from Three Rivers, Mich., where he has resided for the past five months, with the intention of visiting his daughter. Finding that he was wanted by the police, he made hasty arrangements to flee to Chicago but was arrested by Officers Duvall and Delgen and Chief Prim at the Junction yesterday morning when about to take the 10:30 o'clock train south.

He was given a preliminary hearing in court yesterday afternoon and his case was continued until Tuesday. Bail in the amount of $1,000 was furnished and he was given his freedom until Tuesday.

AHRENS WINS WRESTLING MATCH FROM YOUNG ZOLL

About 250 wrestling fans witnessed the Zoll-Ahrens match at Gairor hall, Mackville last evening. The mat artists struggled for about two hours and a half, Ahrens winning with two out of three falls. Both were in good trim and put up a stiff contest. Zoll downed Ahrens in the first fall in 21 minutes. The farmer kid caught a good second wind and downed Zoll the next two times in 23 and 27 minutes, respectively.

Two preliminary events were also held, the first between Elmer Hahn and Walter Sedo of Center. The second was between Herman Schmelling and Arthur Dahike, also of Center. Both decisions were a draw. Arthur Schmelling acted as referee.

The floor was cleared after the matches were over and a dance was enjoyed.

MILWAUKEE MILK BUSINESS RUNS ON A SLENDER MARGIN

REDUCTION OF ONE CENT A QUART IN PRICE WILL FORCE DEALERS INTO BANKRUPTCY

(Special to Post-Crescent)
 Madison, Wis.—That a raise of one cent in the price of milk would give the most successful Milwaukee dealers huge profits ranging from 56 per cent to 94 per cent on investment and that a drop of one cent would drive every milk dealer into dead loss varying from 18 per cent to 62 per cent on investment is the unusual fact revealed in the report by the State Division of Markets on the profits and losses of Milwaukee milk distributors in 1919.

A summary of the report contains these findings:

1. The returns on investment of Milwaukee milk dealers in 1919 ranged from a loss of 37 per cent to a profit of 27 per cent. Of the eighteen dealers investigated: 3 kept no books; 5 lost money; 6 earned from 2 to 12 per cent; 3 earned from 15 to 19 per cent; one earned 27 per cent.
2. The actual net profit on each quart of milk accruing to the four most successful distributors ranged from 1.8 mills to 4.6 mills. The percentage of the consumer's price retained as clear profit by these dealers varied from 1.4 per cent to 3.6 per cent.
3. A raise of one cent in the price level of milk in 1919 would have increased the profits of the four most prosperous concerns to huge returns on investment varying from 56 per cent as a minimum to 94 per cent as a maximum. A raise of only one-half cent would have created returns ranging from 37 per cent to 55 per cent.
4. A drop of one cent in the price level of milk in 1919 would have driven even the four most successful dealers into losses varying from 18 per cent to 62 per cent upon investment. A drop of only one-half cent would have forced every Milwaukee distributor into loss except two, who would have earned—respectively $66.100 of one per cent and 4.6 per cent.

4. Computing upon a year's basis and assuming other elements constant, a decrease of 10 cents per eight-gallon can in the price paid by the dealer to the farmer justifies the public in demanding a decrease of one-half cent in the price per quart charged by the distributor to the consumer. A decrease of 20 cents per can in price paid the farmer justifies a demand for a decrease of one cent per quart in the price charged to the public.

Upon the same basis, a raise of 10 cents per eight-gallon can in the price paid to the farmer compels the distributor to raise the consumer's price one-half cent per quart or face loss. A raise of 25 cents per can paid the farmer necessitates an increase of one cent per quart in the consumer's price.

That the system of milk distribution to be pursued in Milwaukee in the future is a matter of policy upon which the people of Milwaukee must make their own determination is the position taken by the Division of Markets which, however, suggests that there are three alternatives:

- (1) Adhering to the present system.
- (2) Recognition of the milk business as a public utility and concentration thereof under one management, with government control of the price.
- (3) Municipal ownership and operation.

SOCIALIST MAYOR MAY BE CANDIDATE

MAYOR HOAN OF MILWAUKEE MAY BE NAMED ON PRESIDENTIAL TICKET AT NEW YORK

(By Edward M. Thierry)
 (Special to Post-Crescent)
 Milwaukee—Daniel W. Hoan, who headed into the national eye by breaking all records in his election to a third term as socialist mayor of Milwaukee, used to be a cook.

Hoan doesn't look like either a mayor or a cook. He is over six feet tall, thin and has a square jawed face. He has a mustache and a shock of black hair that grows exceedingly long behind.

The mayor is 39 years old. He learned to cook when he was 14 and used to be 21 cooked in kitchens of Milwaukee and Chicago restaurants. In 1905 he graduated from the University of Wisconsin, where he cooked for a students' club.

Then he went to Chicago and ran a restaurant and went to law school after working hours. In 1908 he was admitted to the bar and in 1910, when Emil Seidel was elected first socialist mayor of Milwaukee, Hoan was elected city attorney. The term is four years and in 1914 he was reelected city attorney. He was reelected mayor in 1916, again in 1918 and 1920.

Hoan was a Socialist way back in his college freshman days, having organized the first Socialist club at the University of Wisconsin.

Now Mayor Hoan is being talked of as socialist nominee for the presidency. He will loom large at the Socialist convention in New York, May 8.

FORMER PRESIDENT OF U. S. TO DISCUSS
LEAGUE OF NATIONS HERE

William Howard Taft

One of America's most constructive statesmen will be heard by the people of Appleton and vicinity with the appearance of the Hon. William Howard Taft here Tuesday evening. This will be the closing number of the community course and it is expected that Lawrence Memorial chapel will be packed to standing room.

Mr. Taft is to make a special trip from his home at New Haven, Conn., to fill the Appleton engagement. Chicago has taken advantage of his westward journey by scheduling him to speak there Monday, May 10. He will probably arrive here at 6:12 o'clock Tuesday evening.

"The League of Nations Up to Date" is the lecture the noted speaker will deliver here. It promises to be admirable in every way, full of valued current information, old-fashioned common sense and bubbling over with the humor that gets to the heart of the American public.

PIONEER RESIDENT
DIES AT MANITOWOC

Manitowoc, Wis., R. C. Berndt, pioneer resident and civil war veteran, passed away at his home here at the age of 81 years. Mr. Berndt was born in Germany in 1836 and came to this country when 20 years old. He settled in Ohio and enlisted in service with Company C, 17th Ohio, in the Civil war. After the war he came to this city to locate and had always since made his home here.

FIRST MAYOR OF MARINETTE DIES

Marinette, Wis., A. J. Van Cleave, 73, member of the state capital commission, trustee of the Isaac Stephenson, and Daniel Wells estate and former president of the Bank of Marinette and prominent landman and business leader of this part of the state, died at his home here today, after several weeks' illness due to physical breakdown.

Mr. Van Cleave was the first mayor of Marinette and had held other local offices here. He was a close business associate of the late United States Senator Isaac Stephenson, and was a civil engineer for the Chicago & Northwestern railway when it extended through this region to Upper Michigan in 1871.

He is survived by a widow and two sons, Ralph and John A. Van Cleave of Exeter, Calif.

GIANTS WIN FROM THE DODGERS IN THE ELEVENTH

NEW YORK.—New York won an exciting eleven inning game from Brooklyn on Friday, 7 to 6.

After Brooklyn took the lead in the ninth scoring three runs on Benton, a poor fielding play by Olson permitted New York to tie in its half.

The Dodgers then took the lead by scoring two runs in the eleventh, only to have New York come back with three scores on triples by Lear and Kelly, a pass to Burns, Young's single and Schmandt's tumble on Fletcher the latter play, coming with two out, let in the winning run. Score:

Brooklyn 11, New York 10 (11 innings).

New York 11, Brooklyn 10 (11 innings).

LONG HITTING FEATURES
CUBS WIN OVER PIRATES

PITTSBURGH.—Chicago defeated Pittsburgh on Friday, 6 to 1, in a game featured by long hitting. The home team played loosely in the early part of the game and was weak at the bat until the last three

CLAUDE WILLIAMS WINS
5TH GAME OF THE SEASON

Detroit 1, St. Louis 10 (9 innings).

CINCI REDS DEFEAT
CARDS IN SLUGGEST

ST. LOUIS.—Cincinnati defeated St. Louis by 15 to 11 in a weird exhibition on Friday. Schupp was removed in the first after walking five of the eight men who faced him. ## BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets
Are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. For 17 years he used these tablets (a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil) in his private practice with great success.

They do all the good that calomel does but have no bad after effects. No pains, no griping, no injury to the gums or danger from acid foods—yet they stimulate the liver and bowels. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." Note how they clear clouded brain and perk up the spirits. 10c and 25c a box.

MIKE SAYS HE WILL FLY TO THE GUARD
CAMP AT DOUGLAS

MIKE STEINHAUER EXPECTS TO SET A NEW PRECEDENT
FOR GUARD TRANS-PORTATION

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Madison, Wis.—Mike is going to fly to Camp Douglas this summer to attend the annual encampment of the Wisconsin National Guard. Mike made this positive announcement in the office of The Adjutant General while here on a business trip this week.

Mike, as he has been known to the members of the Wisconsin National Guard since 1898, as well as to every man, woman and child in Appleton, is Marcus Steinhauer, a resident of Appleton for more than 25 years, and more familiarly known in that city than any mayor the city ever had.

Mike was born in Germany, came to America and to Appleton in the early '90s. He says his first job on arriving in Wisconsin was chambermaid in an Appleton livery barn. He took out his citizenship papers and became an enthusiastic American. When the old Company G, Second Wisconsin National Guard enlisted for the Spanish-American war, Mike wanted to join the company but it was filled. He followed the soldiers to Milwaukee and then to the south and was finally enlisted as a cook and went to Porto Rico with his command.

Returning to Appleton he drove a wagon for an Express company, re-enlisted in the reorganized National Guard and won promotions to corporal, then sergeant and for years was first sergeant of the company. He never missed a drill while a member of the company and after several encampments at Camp Douglas, decided to walk from Appleton to Camp Douglas. He made the trip alone, in heavy marching order, carrying his rifle, etc., with him. The next year he made the trip on a bicycle, then he rode a horse into camp and finally made the trip by auto.

Ten years ago Mike married a boyhood sweetheart from the old country, resigned from the Guard and entered in the grocery business in Appleton. In 1914 he took his wife and children back to Germany for a visit with relatives and was there when the war started. After a few months he returned to Appleton and became active in war work, joined the State Guard company and became sergeant-major. He was transferred to the Ninth Regiment band as drum-major, and will hold that office in the reorganization of the Old Second Regiment this summer and as such states that he will fly from Appleton to Camp Douglas in July in an aeroplane.

SCOLDING LOCKS HAIRPIN MACHINE BIG LABOR SAVER

APPLETON MAN'S INVENTION WILL MANUFACTURE 50,000 HAIRPINS EVERY DAY

Production of hair pins on a large scale will soon be a reality at the plant of the Scolding Locks Hairpin company. The lone machine that has turned out 85 pounds of wire hairpins each day will be one of no less than a dozen. Another machine which has just been invented and proved its possibilities will make possible the packing of the pins at an astounding rate.

American warehouses are virtually sold out of their hairpin supply, much of which formerly came from England and Germany, according to H. P. Smith, director of the company and superintendent of the plant. There is a 20 per cent import duty on hairpins as well. These conditions leave a wide open field which the local company will enter with a program of large scale production on an efficiency basis that will keep the manufacturing cost low. Only three other companies of any consequence are manufacturing hairpins in this country.

A sure and certain course is being pursued by the company in its expansion, thus eliminating shipping and production delays that others experience in endeavoring to obtain new machinery. A milling machine, lathes, drilling machine, emery wheel, blower and other equipment has been installed in one of the rooms of its factory on College avenue and mechanics are turning out the machinery parts. Mr. Smith is a machine designer of wide experience and as the machines are of his own invention, they can be built with comparative ease.

Iron basis are on hand for 12 machines now, and parts are being made as rapidly as possible. The machines are capable of converting the wire into finished hairpins automatically at the rate of 85 pounds per day, or a total of over 50,000 hairpins for each machine. They are "japanned" in a revolving drum and then placed in an oven where they are baked, or have their finish hardened.

Counting and packing the pins for shipment is where the company excels. Through constant experience a machine has been invented by Mr. Smith which will disengage the mass of hairpins, line them up conveniently on racks and then count them in any quantity desired. They are then carried to the packing department on a conveyor and wrapped with the correct number in each package.

Conservatively estimating the time it ordinarily took a girl to disentangle a mass of hair pins, straighten them in bunches and count them, the machine will do the work of 70 girls. Two girls are stationed at one end of the machine to operate it, the only hand operation being to lift the counted bunches of pins from their racks to the conveyor. The machine operates with brushes and revolving rakes which scatter the hairpins over a series of channels. They slide down the channels and line themselves up on rods. By pushing a lever, an adjustable device divides the line of pins at a given point, the bunches that are counted projecting about half an inch up from the rods. These are removed and placed on a conveyor, which carries them to the shipping department.

Hairpins are made in sizes from 1 1/4 inches to 3 1/4 inches, both heavy and invisible. It will require several months to complete any of the new machines.

"The Gumps"

"A splendid modern comedy with a well defined story full of bright and sparkling conversation and refreshing humor, cleverly evolving exhilarating and spontaneous climaxes." Is the superlative language employed by an exchange in describing "The Gumps," a comedy with music which is to appear at Appleton Theatre on Thursday, May 13th.

The principal characters in the play are of a peculiarly interesting order—living beings of cartoonist Smith's imagination—and as really appealing as friends you know.

"Andy," "Min," "Chester," "Uncle Ben," "Slick" and "Ma" are impersonated by James R. Fraser, Bessie Clifton, James Collins, Charles Hawkins, Russel Frost and Marie Welter in the order named.

Jasper & Jackson the living cartoons present a side splitting burlesque of a Burro, one of Sidney Smith's "Mountain Canaries" that is said to provoke more hearty laughter than anything ever seen of its kind since the day when Henry E. Dixey made his first hit as the hind legs of a calf.

To those who like songs that have character set in a good musical background that has real reason for being there—Casper Nathan and Isham Jones have again shown what they can do in the composition of fresh lyrics and music with credit to themselves and enjoyment for the spectator.

Uncle Sam 20-30 FARM TRACTOR.

With the price of fuel at present high levels, you are going to interest the farmer immediately when you demonstrate how saving of fuel consumption this powerful, light-weight Tractor is.

Power—And to Spare

You will amaze him when you show that the 4250 Uncle Sam delivers a full 3000 pounds drawbar pull—and 30 h.p. at the pulley. There is no loss power through over weight or through being clumsy and impractical in design.

Strength and Durability: He will be mighty pleased to know that these two very essential features have been assured through the use of light weight, high quality Drop Forged Axles and Gears, Nickel Steel Parts; that it has a rugged four cylinder U. S. Beaver engine, U. S. Nuttall transmission, that all working parts operate in oil bath and that Dixie High-Tension Magneto with automatic impulse Starter is standard equipment; that his fire insurance is reduced 15% by the use of Pyrene Fire Extinguisher which is also standard equipment.

You will sell a lot of Uncle Sam Tractors this spring, for the farmer has become a keen judge of economical, powerful, low cost tractor values—but you will have to look into our proposition right away—before the other fellow does.
